ENGINEERS ARE SORRY TO LEAVE BEAUTIFUL POST

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

PORT DE RUSSY, March 26.—As the time draws near for the change of station ordered some time ago by the department commander, the men of 1 company, Second Battalion of Engineers at Port De Russy, T. H., regret more and more to leave their pleasant quarters at that post and their removal to Fort Shafter. While Fort Shafter is probably the most up-to-date post on the island, the engineers have beautified Port De Russy since their arrival here about one year ago, to a great extent, and are loth to leave just as the result of their hard work is becoming visible. The quarters now occupied by the engineers will be taken up by the 55th company, Coast Artillery Corps, which was ordered here from Fort DuPont, Dela., last month.

While the United States government has never erected permanent quarters for either the company or staff men at the post, the environments, are as pleasant as at any post on the island, and due to the fact that they are stationed so near the beach, which offers a great diversion of sport to the men at Fort De Russy, which those stationed at other posts do not get, it is considered an ideal place to "soldier."

The engineers have planted many flowers and trees, built roads and otherwise made permanent improvements, and although Fort Shafter is a beautiful post, the men as a whole consider Port De Russy its superior. Since the increase of the garrison due to the arrival of the 10th company, Coast Artillery Corps, much improvement work has been going on, and the post in the short period of one month has assumed an entirely different aspect.

The artillery company has already settled in its quarters, under canvas, and company streets, hall grounds, and parade have been laid out. A mess hall, with kitchen attached, has been erected, and all the tents are supplied with wooden floors. A large tent houses the company "recreation" room at the head of the company street. While the new quarters are a bit different from the barracks at Ft. Winfield Scott, the men have nothing but compliments for Honolulu and their new station.

Activity at Battery Randolph.

Battery Randolph, at Fort De Russy, will be the scene of much activity next month, when the men of the Tenth company, Coast Artillery Corps, will start the work of mounting the two 14-inch rifles to be placed there. This battery, when complete, will be one of the most important factors in the chain of coast defenses which will guard Oahu from the attacks of an enemy.

The immense carriages for the rifles, which arrived on the S. S. Lurline last week, will be placed in position first, and made ready to receive the guns. These carriages are monstrous things, and require most skillful handling to get them in place. One of the carriages is on the post ready to be mounted.

The Tenth company was stationed at a mortar battery at Fort Winfield Scott, and the rifle battery is therefore somewhat new to the men, but a great deal of attention has been given to the working parts of the big guns, as set forth in pamphlets of the ordnance department, and it is not expected that it will take a great deal of time to perfect the drill on the 14-inch rifles, when the battery is ready for service.

Linguist Arrives.

Private Hugo A. Verbeck, who was recently transferred from the Sixty-ninth to the One Hundred and Fifty-ninth company, Coast Artillery Corps, was an arrival on the transport Thomas. He has already been ordered to report to department headquarters for duty. Private Verbeck is an exceptional linguist, and speaks, reads and writes many languages with the greatest of ease.

10th Company to De Russy.

The 10th company, coast artillery corps, has been assigned to the 14-inch rifle battery at Fort De Russy for drill and service practice. This leaves the 6-inch rifle battery for the 55th company, which will arrive here next month from Ft. DuPont, Del. The former battery is not complete yet, but the latter is practically ready for drill purposes, and the 55th company will be able to start right out, upon their arrival here, with their regular artillery work.

Electricians Come.

Master Electrician James H. Wetherholt, Electrician Sergeant 1st Class Charles Doyle and Electrician Sergeant 2d Class George Wald were arrivals on the U. S. A. T. Thomas. All have been assigned to duty in the coast defenses of Oahu, and will take station as follows: Master Electrician Wetherholt at coast defense headquarters, Ft. Ruger; Sergeant Doyle at Ft. Kamehameha and Sergeant Wald at Ft. De Russy. This increases the strength of the non-commissioned staff of the coast defenses of Oahu to 1 master electrician, 1 engineer, 4 electrician sergeants 1st class, and 1 electrician sergeant 2d class. This will give the command a high degree of efficiency, but it is expected that even this number will be augmented by more arrivals in the near future. With the two formerly incomplete posts, De Russy and Kamehameha, garrisoned, it requires quite a personnel to maintain the defense at the state of efficiency which it has attained, and positions which have heretofore remained vacant will have to be filled. This is especially true during the season of artillery, when all branches of communication, not including the searchlights, electrical apparatus and engines, will have to be kept in working order.

Artillery drill will start in a short time, and the electricians will then have a chance to acquire a thorough knowledge of the requirements of this defense.

Electrician Sergeant 1st Class Frederick Werner returned from the states on the transport Thomas. Sergeant Werner has been enjoying a three months' furlough.

MAUI PREPARES FOR LEGISLATURE

WAILUKU, Maui, March 26.—At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday the matter was brought up of the entertainment of the members of the legislature who are expected to come to Maui this week Saturday. J. N. S. Williams for the transportation committee reported special rates from the Inter-Island Steamship Company if the visitors came on Saturday's Mauna Kea.

It was thought, however, that very likely a special steamer would bring the members of both houses to Maui for one day only, as the work in the legislature was pressing, and the members felt that they ought not to be away more than over Sunday. In view of this fact that the visitors would possibly be here only one day the entertainment committee made out a program tentative upon that plan. If the party is to be two days the program will have to be changed to meet the stay of two days on Maui. Otherwise the committee have submitted the following plans to the transportation committee:

Leave Kahului by special train to Wailuku and have breakfast at the Maui Hotel. At 7:00 a. m. take special train to Hailu and meet the home-standers; leave Hailu at 9:00 and return by train to Paia station from which they leave at 9:30 by automobile for the County Farm and Sanitarium, returning to Wailuku for lunch at the Maui Hotel at 1:30 p. m.; after lunch they leave at 2:30 p. m. for Iao Valley. On the return they leave at 4:30 for Lahaina. At 5:00 they leave for Lahaina, returning at 6:00 they inspect the new Lahaina schoolhouse now in the process of erection, visit the new Mauna Kea site and the proposed site for the Lahaina armory. They shall then have dinner at the Pioneer Hotel from 7:30 to 8:30, after which they take the steamer for Honolulu.

The man who says he never had a show probably never had the price of admission.

BOMBARDMENT OF SALUTE FOR CONSULS

This is the season of official calls, the transfer of the naval command of Hawaii to Rear Admiral Moore being the signal for an interchange of courtesies between the navy, army and consular corps. Admiral Moore ranks everyone here but the governor of the territory, and therefore, with the exception of Governor Frear, the first call comes from the residents.

Tomorrow morning the waterfront will echo with a whole broadside of salutes fired in honor of five consuls and consuls general, who will pay their respects to Admiral Moore in a body. Thirty-nine guns in all will be fired.

Those who will call at 10:30 tomorrow morning are A. De Souza Canavarro, consul general of Portugal; M. Etake, consul general of Japan; Chen Ching Ho, Chinese consul; Thomas Harrington, British consul; I. de Arana, Spanish consul.

This morning Admiral Moore, accompanied by Lieutenant Stevens, returned the call of General Macomb, reaching army headquarters shortly after 1 o'clock.

SWIFT DESCENT UPON DESERTER

E. J. Smith, alleged deserter from one of the military organizations at Fort Shafter, was turned over to the United States authorities today, following upon his arrest last night by Police Officer Swift.

Smith is charged with attempting to get away by means of the Kosmos liner Karnak, now at the port, where a large general cargo is being discharged. Smith is said to have secured a position on board the vessel. According to the story related to the officers, Smith discarded his uniform for the less conspicuous garb of a civilian. He had placed his baggage on board and was prepared to sail for the coast in that vessel when Officer Swift descended upon the ship and did not leave until he had Smith in the toils of the law.

ACCUSED SMUGGLER FINDS LIBERTY SWEET

At liberty for the first time in several weeks, Samuel D. Hausman, the septuagenarian held by the federal authorities on a charge of opium smuggling, spent the morning shopping in the stores along Fort street. By the action of Judge Clemens yesterday morning Hausman's bail was reduced to the very reasonable figure of $250 and there was no difficulty in obtaining a bondholder at this price.

C. H. Brown of the Honolulu Scrap Iron Works signified his willingness to take up Hausman's bond at any figure and had no hesitancy in going security for the quarter of a thousand required. Hausman, who is beginning to show the effects of his long confinement, had nothing to say this morning regarding the charge against him. It was rumored again this morning, but speedily denied, that Hausman has offered to make a clean breast of the affair and to plead guilty to the authorities.
